

Why is it that Tom Wheeler, who used to be a lobbyist for the telecommunication companies, is allowed to strip the United States of net neutrality? The overwhelming cry of the citizens of this great nation demand to keep net neutrality and Mr. Wheeler seems to be instead acting in his own interest and that of some close colleges and friends. Simply put, if something isn't broke, don't fix it. There is absolutely no reason to strip the internet of net neutrality and to do so is highly suspicious.
